Alexander Building Construction Earns Top Safety Award at Keystone Contractors Association Annual Awards Event.

Harrisburg, PA, November 24, 2009 – Alexander Building Construction was awarded the highest safety honor, the H.B. Alexander Trophy, by the Keystone Contractors Association at its annual awards dinner on October 23rd. Named for the company's founder, H.B. Alexander, the award is given to the member company with the best safety performance on its project sites. Alexander had zero accidents in over 150,000 man hours worked during the award year. This is the third year Alexander has won the award since 2005 and the 9th year overall. Alexander congratulates all of its project teams for their excellent site safety record and credits this award to their diligence. Rick Seitz, President, says "Safety is everyone's job at Alexander and is a tenet of our corporate core values. I am very proud of all of our project teams and their dedication to excellence on jobsite safety."
