Alexander Building Construction Co. completes Hershey Medical Office Building Fit-out Projects at Colonnade Way and Benner Pike

State College, PA, December 28, 2010 . . . Alexander Building Construction has completed two projects for the Penn State Hershey Medical Center. The projects consisted of converting two existing retail spaces into medical office buildings. The Benner Pike, State College location is approximately 8,600 square feet and provides infusion facilities for chemotherapy patients, examination rooms, as well as a blood draw laboratory. The other medical office building is located at Colonnade Way, State College, and is an approximately 12,000 square feet facility providing family practice exams, medical treatment, and includes an Endoscopy Center.
